BY DENISE MICKELSEN

The New Doily

Modern Twist's silk-screened silicone Doileez protect your furniture while adding a decorative touch. They're food safe, so you can use them to line platters, too. $22 to $25 for a set of two 10-inch Doileez; modern-twist.com for stores.

Rustic and Refined

This elegant wine chiller offsets hammered stainless steel with a leopard wood base, to lovely effect. $180; atticushome.com for stores.

One of a Kind

A woodgrain pattern gives these gorgeous handcrafted bowls a rustic look, while their free-form shapes make them modern. dbO Home's Burl Collection dinnerware (available in chocolate, lettuce, and oyster shown here, as well as honey, truffle, and steamer), $24 to $80 at dbohome.com; 860-364-6008.

Grind to Go

Particular about your s&p? Take your own on the road with this stylish stainless-steel mini salt and pepper grinder travel set. $45 (includes leather pouch) at grindpepper.com; 888-514-7463.

Sweet Ending

Fifty-year-old Mercer's Dairy of New York state makes these luscious ice creams with wines from the oldest vineyard in the country, Brotherhood Winery. We liked all six flavors, but Red Raspberry Chardonnay, Chocolate Cabernet, and Ala Port were our favorites. $6 per pint at mercersdairy.com; 866-637-2377.

History in the Baking

We love the swirling shape of NordicWare's Heritage Bundt pan—inspired by an eastern European kugelhopf pan but cool now in a Frank Gehry kind of way. $34 at williams-sonoma.com; 877-812-6235.
